SAMPSON LOW, MARSTON & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS.

AT ALL LIBRARIES.

3 vols. crown 8vo, cloth extra, 31s. 6d.
VICTOR HUGO'S New Novel, "NINETY-THREE," Translated by FRANK LEE BENEDICT and J. HAIN FRISWELL.

"The wonderful and tempestuous genius of M. Victor Hugo has again found scope in a theme perhaps more suited to it than any on which it has been exercised since the masterpiece of 'Les Misérables.'" Saturday Review.
"Victor Hugo does not stand in need of pleading on his behalf. He has obtained the widest popularity in Europe.... His poetic sense of tenderness, beauty, strangeness, and sublimity is supreme, and in expression he is at the present day unrivalled.... To conclude, 'Ninety-Three' is a representation of the civil war in La Vendée, performed by a company of types that are superbly inflated by the breath of an eminent and humane poet, whose prose has the quality of song."
Pall Mall Gazette.

IMPORTANT NEW WORK on the SANDWICH ISLANDS, &c. Square 8vo, cloth extra, price 12s.
NORTHERN CALIFORNIA, OREGON, and the SANDWICH ISLANDS. By CHARLES NORTHOFF, Author of "California for Health, Pleasure, and Residence," &c.

CAMPAIGNING on the OXUS and the FALL of KHIVA. By J. A. MAC GAHAN. With Map and numerous Illustrations. Demy 8vo, cloth extra, 12s.
"A book more freshly written, and with more interesting matter, both general and personal, is seldom to be found."—Athenaeum.
"The personal adventures which he had are exceedingly entertaining.... We recommend most cordially Mr. Mac Gahan's book."
Daily Telegraph.
"Reads like some lost chapters of the 'Thousand and One Nights.'" Standard.
"This book is the best and most readable account yet given of the distant lands and interesting events of which it treats."—Daily News.

NEW NOVELS, AT ALL LIBRARIES.

NEW NOVEL BY THE GREAT GERMAN AUTHOR, BERTHOLD AUERBACH.

WALDFRIED. Translated from the German. 3 vols. crown 8vo, 31s. 6d.
"Of all Auerbach's works this is the purest, freshest, and healthiest, and the one in which one sees clearest the soul of the poet."
Extract from Review in the Augsburg Allgemeine Zeitung.

UNDER SEAL of CONFESSION. By AVERIL BEAUMONT. Author of "Thornicroft's Model." 3 vols. crown 8vo, cloth, 31s. 6d.
"But we are not going to describe the plot fully, because everybody who reads novels regularly (and not such persons only) should read 'Under Seal of Confession.' It is a very good book indeed."
Academy.

"B," an AUTOBIOGRAPHY. By E. DYNE FENTON. Author of "Sortes from 'Gib' in quest of Sensation and Sentiment," "Eve's Daughters," &c. 3 vols. crown 8vo, 31s. 6d.
"There is an unmistakable power in this book.... originality and vigour."
Penny Fair.
"This is an exceptionally good novel..... singularly entertaining, and even brilliant."
Graphic.

ONE ONLY. 2 vols. crown 8vo, cloth extra, 21s.
"Who loved one only and who claved to her."

CAMERON EXPEDITION.—Lieutenant

Cameron, R.N., has pushed on alone, in spite of difficulties arising from the disturbed state of the country, to Ujiji. Thence he has sent home a valuable set of observations. During March and April he intended to explore and survey Lake Tanganyika, and, when he had completed this work, he was in May to continue his journey to the westward across the Manyema country to the Lusala.

To meet the future expenses of this Expedition, which may certainly be regarded as national, an APPEAL for AID is confidently made. Unless the bills which are from time to time drawn on the Consulate at Zanzibar are promptly met, Lieutenant Cameron may be placed in the greatest difficulty and danger by the hostility of the Arab traders. A Subscription List to meet the further expenses has been opened, and donations may be sent to the Cameron Expedition Fund at Messrs. Ransom, Bouvier & Co., 1 Pall Mall East. A sum of at least £1,200 beyond the subscriptions already received or promised is needed.

CLEMENTS R. MARKHAM, Hon. Treasurer.

MONEY, TIME, AND LIFE

ARE LOST IN THE EVENT OF ACCIDENTAL INJURY OR DEATH.

Provide against these losses by a Policy of the RAILWAY PASSENGERS' ASSURANCE COMPANY, Against Accidents of all kinds. The Oldest and Largest Accidental Assurance Company. Hon. A. KINNAIRD, M.P., Chairman.

Apply to the Clerks at the Railway Stations, the Local Agents, or at CORNHILL, and 10 REGENT STREET, LONDON. WILLIAM J. VIAN, Secretary.

TO BONA FIDE INVESTORS.

THE DIRECTORS of a PUBLIC COMPANY, the Head Officers of which are situated in the City of Manchester, with Branches to be opened in the most important towns in England, having completed their arrangements, beg respectfully to call the particular attention of the public to their investment.

The concern, previously and for over twenty years, has been the property of one private gentleman, during which time it has been in active operation, and has returned very flattering profits, which profits will be considerably augmented by the introduction of additional capital, the Vendor having come to an arrangement with the present Company for that purpose.

As this is an undertaking of a substantial character, and one which cannot fail to return first-class Dividends on investments, it is requested that adventurous speculators seeking promotion money, and others baggating in questionable concerns, will not make applications for particulars; but to all who desire to secure a permanent income, from the humble investor of five pounds to the more fortunate one of five thousand, the Directors will give the fullest information; and they respectfully solicit such persons to write for Prospectuses immediately, to

CRITICISMS of the PICTURE GALLERIES, of the STAGE, and of MUSIC.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The ACADEMY may fairly claim the first place among literary journals as the representative of the ripest and soundest English scholarship; and its criticisms of art, literature, music, and the drama are informing, incisive, and trustworthy. . . . It is hardly possible in a few words to give an idea of the excellence of this old journal in its new form, but every subject with which it deals (and it deals with many untouched by other papers) is entrusted to the hands of men who know what they are writing about, and the result is a freshness and fulness of information and an accuracy of judgment which commands confidence, and ministers to the intellectual satisfaction and pleasure of the reader. . . . The accomplished and scholarly dramatic critic of the ACADEMY, Mr. Frederick Wedmore, the novelist, whose theatrical notices are perhaps the best in style and the most trustworthy now appearing in any London journal."—Manchester City News.

"Our contemporary the ACADEMY has suddenly sprung into a great literary position, and is full of instructive and interesting matter."—Spectator.

"The ACADEMY, in its new and enlarged form, has a promising look. Its size is that of the Athenaeum, and the general arrangement of its contents does not differ much from that of its venerable and not too enterprising contemporary. The great distinction between the two is that the articles of the ACADEMY are signed. . . . It will be seen that there is no lack of strong names. But strong names will not of themselves float a new paper. The editing, the general tone, the make-up of it are more important, and of these too a good report can be given. . . . Altogether, the ACADEMY is very readable, and bids fair to be a formidable rival to the Athenaeum, which, for that matter, it might speedily and easily surpass in certain respects."—New York Tribune.

THE ACADEMY will pursue the purely practical aim of being a guide and source of information to all educated persons.

IMPORTANT CORRESPONDENCE.

The REV. SIR EDWARD R. JODRELL, Bart.

To Messrs. FELTOE & SONS,

26 Conduit Street, Regent Street, W.

When at Sall I received an Analytical Report of your "Specialité" Sherry, and you must forgive me for saying that at first I regarded the whole matter as a most egregious piece of humbug. Having, however, tasted the Wine in question, and found it most agreeable to the palate, I determined, on my own responsibility, to have it analysed for myself, having fully also determined previously to expose any hoax pro bono publico, or to give you the benefit of the analysis, should it turn out in your favour. I have the pleasure to forward you Professor Redwood's (of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain) Analysis, which says more than I can express. I am very particular as to the Wine I drink, and as I have been hitherto buying "every-day Sherry" at 60s. a dozen, I am rejoiced to find now that I can purchase Wine of equal strength and superior bouquet at half that price. This should be known to the "General Public," and you can make any use you deem proper of this letter, and also of Professor Redwood's most elaborate analysis.

Yours faithfully,

EDWARD REPPS JODRELL.

21 Portland Place, London: December 9, 1873.

(Signed)

The Rev. Sir E. R. JODRELL.

SIR,—I have completed the Analysis of the sample of Sherry you left with me, and proceed to report the results. Judged by the palate, it might be represented as a light, moderately dry Wine, with nothing to object to in its flavour or apparent strength. It is slightly acid to test-paper, and has a specific gravity of 986.8. These characters correspond with those of a sample of reputed good Montilla Sherry, the specific gravity of which was found to be 986.6, and the acidity almost identical with that of your sample.

I proceeded to make a more minute analysis, the results of which were as follows:—

Absolute alcohol, by volume	20.0 parts in 100
Free or unneutralized acid, partly volatile and partly non-volatile	0.54 "
Volatile acid (acetic acid)	0.1 "
Sugar and extract	2.5 "
Ash, from incineration of extract	0.45 "
MINERAL ACID, or inorganic matter, NOT YIELDED BY GRAPE JUICE	NONE.

THESE RESULTS ARE ALL SATISFACTORY. The proportion of alcohol is that found in the best samples of Sherry, the volatile acid (acetic acid) is not more than is usually present, and the fixed acid is the TRUE ACID OF THE GRAPE, namely tartaric acid. The ash is not more than it should be, and contains nothing foreign to the grape.

In preparing this Analysis, I have been enabled to observe that the alcohol, when separated from the other constituents of the Wine, was PURE IN FLAVOUR AND OF GOOD QUALITY, and that there was NOTHING OBJECTIONABLE in the extract or other products that were separated in the process of analyzation.

I am, yours truly,

(Signed)

The LONDON MEDICAL RECORD
writes, August 6, 1873:—

DIETETIC RECORD.

FELTOE'S

"SPECIALITÉ" SHERRY.

"This wine has now maintained its reputation more than three years. Comparing an analysis which we made recently with the analysis of three years ago, we are glad to see that it is still an honest, sound wine, free from acid, and of excellent quality. It has attained and deserves a great medical reputation."

The
BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL
writes, March 1, 1873, in its Official Report upon the
ANNUAL MUSEUM at BIRMINGHAM:—

"Only one wine was shown this year—FELTOE'S 'SPECIALITÉ' SHERRY—a wine which is deservedly making its way chiefly through the recommendations of the Medical Profession, founded on its honestly excellent qualities, its freedom from acidity and heat, and its uniform soundness."

The PUBLIC ANALYST for PADDINGTON
writes, January 17, 1874:—

"I have had it tested in my laboratory, and am satisfied that it is a genuine, high-class, natural wine, and free from any admixture or acidity. Invalids, and persons who have gouty or uric acid tendencies, and require wine as a beverage in moderate quantity, will find your 'SPECIALITÉ' SHERRY pure and wholesome."

SUPERNATURAL RELIGION; an Inquiry into the Reality of Divine Revelation.

"The book proceeds from a man of ability, a scholar and reasoner, whose discussions are conducted in a judicial method. He writes like an earnest seeker after truth, looking around at all particulars pertaining to his inquiries, and following up every question to its proper end. We have been struck with his complete mastery of the literature. He knows well all German and Dutch books relating to the criticism of the New Testament, as well as the English ones. His scholarship, indeed, is apparent throughout. Along with a wide and minute scholarship, the unknown writer shows great acuteness. He has the critical faculty in union with a calm spirit. Reverent without, his volumes bespeak the serious nature of everyone concerned about the records of religion."—Athenæum.

"The writer of 'Supernatural Religion' has conferred a boon on all students of theology. Calm and judicial in tone, fully acquainted with the facts of the case, and scrupulously exact in stating the arguments of adversaries, — no more formidable assailant of orthodoxy could well be imagined. Whenever the history of Christian theology in the nineteenth century shall be written, a place of honour will belong to the anonymous Author of 'Supernatural Religion.' Before entering on the details of the book, it is simple justice to the Author to say that his acquaintance with the critical literature of his subject is as nearly as possible exhaustive. In PART I. the Author has shown the fallacy of the a priori argument in favour of miracles. In PARTS II. and III. he examines the evidence as to the date and authenticity of the records on which the miracles depend. This part of the work is even better than the first. We are bound to add that the concluding chapters prove the Author to be a warm friend of spiritualism, though not, in the ordinary sense of the word, supernatural religion. Whatever else the Author of 'Supernatural Religion' may be, one thing is certain, that he is a scientifically trained critic."—Westminster Review.

NEW STORY BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

THIRD THOUSAND.

MY MOTHER and I. By the Author of "John Halifax, Gentleman." Post 8vo, 10s. 6d.

"Should the announcement of 'My Mother and I' attract all the young ladies now on their way to country quarters, and the still larger number yet in town, there will be reason for gratitude that at last English girls have been able to obtain and to enjoy a thoroughly innocent novel, 'pure womanly' in its treatment, and yet with a strength and true force far superior to the sickly spasms of modern three-volume deprivations."—Pictorial World.

"Mrs. Craik is always delightfully pure, and healthful, and elevating, and she succeeds in teaching us almost without our knowing it. 'My Mother and I' is a passage out of the family life of the Pendaries, is simply exquisite in this respect. It is astonishing how by sheer delicacy the authoress can make so much of so little. We regard it as very exceptional, and worthy to take the place of much that passes for clever, and striking, and powerful in current fiction."—British Quarterly Review.

"Purity of style, delicacy of thought, and graceful English."—Echo.
"My Mother and I' is well worthy of the author of 'John Halifax, Gentleman,' and will certainly add to her well-deserved reputation, and increase the debt of gratitude which is owed to her by the women of this generation."—Literary World.

"A charming and pathetic story, which deserves not only to be read but to be remembered. Thousands have read it from month to month, and thousands more will read it in its entire shape."—Glasgow News.

"A touching, noble tale, rich in shrewd thought, strong character, and tender feeling."—Freeman.

"To readers who feel bored in these hot summer days with three-volume novels and sensational plots, it will be welcome news that this fresh, graceful romance is told within the compass of a single volume, and that it deals for the most part with the every-day incidents in the quiet, unobtrusive career of two ladies. The great charm of the book consists in the author's treatment of the characters of Elma and her mother."—Leeds Mercury.

"Altogether the best volume of travels recently issued."—Echo.

"It gives a very lively picture of a curiously interesting state of society. The author shows throughout excellent taste, a happy faculty for observing the characteristics of the country and its inhabitants, and a no less happy faculty for looking at the bright side of things."—Saturday Review.
